

Won't Fight Men Wonder How Women Can Do So Many Repair Jobs With a Hairpin

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon considers the tax reform bill too important to jeopardize by fighting for the 27% per cent oil depletion allowance even though he thinks it should be retained, the White House says.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, responding Wednesday to questions raised by a letter a woman wrote to assure a worried Texas official, said both Nixon and Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy still favor a 27% per cent allowance, instead of the 20 per cent figure voted by the House.

When Kennedy told the Senate Finance Committee on Sept. 4 that "we accept" the 20 per cent rate, Ziegler said, it was not an endorsement but "a realistic appraisal of the overwhelming sentiment of the House."

"Both the President and the secretary have favored the existing allowance," Ziegler said. "However, the House has seen it differently and the President and the secretary will not let these differences bar an effective tax reform bill."

The confusion arose when Harry S. Dent, one of the President's deputy counsel, wrote to the county judge of Midland, Tex., that "the recent testimony given before the Senate Finance Committee is to be corrected very soon by the secretary of the Treasury. The President continues to stand by his campaign commitments."

Nixon said flatly in Houston last fall that "I oppose reduction of the allowance."

Ziegler confirmed the letter had been written. But he said the reference to a correction meant only that it would be made clear in future testimony that the administration still would prefer to have 27% per cent, given its choice.

Resident Law in Race Ruling Is Appealed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Racing Commission appealed to the state Supreme Court Wednesday a ruling that declares unconstitutional a law requiring officers of the Southland greyhound race track at West Memphis to be residents of Crittenden County.

Chancellor Kay L. Matthews of Little Rock had declared the 1969 law unconstitutional in July.

It requires officers and directors of the track to have lived in Crittenden County for at least two years before their appointment.

Bombers Continue Pounding

SAIGON (AP) — American and South Vietnamese battlefield deaths dropped last week to their lowest levels in the past six weeks, allied headquarters announced today, while enemy casualties increased more than 200 compared with the week before.

The U.S. Command said 135 Americans were killed in action, the lowest toll since the week of Aug. 3-9 when 96 Americans died.

South Vietnamese battlefield deaths last week dropped to 297, compared to more than 500 during each of the previous two weeks. It was the lowest government toll since Aug. 3-9, when 225 government soldiers were reported killed.

Allied forces reported killing 2,627 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers last week, compared to 2,361 reported last Thursday and a revised total of 2,403 reported today.

"The enemy activity continued to decrease last week, especially at week's end," the Saigon government said. "Compared to that of the previous week, it has come down by 29 per cent."

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said he attached no particular significance to the drop in American battlefield deaths. He pointed out that the total had "fluctuated only a very few" during the past three weeks: 137 three weeks ago, 143 two weeks ago and 135 last week.

The spokesman said the level of enemy activity also has been about the same for the past three weeks, with an average of 210 rocket and mortar attacks every 24 hours.

Meanwhile, U.S. fighter-bombers swooped down on a North Vietnamese munitions depot in the jungle 47 miles northwest of Saigon Wednesday, killed 22 soldiers guarding it and blew up a large store of rockets and mortar shells.

"When the second jet went in, a 500-pound bomb hit right on target," said Capt. Charles D. Link of St. Petersburg, Fla., a forward air controller. "A tremendous explosion rocketed dirt and debris up to nearly 1,500 feet."

Sweeping through the supply depot later Wednesday, troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division found two tons of munitions and a small quantity of medical supplies that had not been destroyed.

There was no estimate of how many rockets and mortars the planes destroyed.

The air attack was touched off by Air Cavalrymen out patrolling to disrupt enemy preparations for the new round of heavy attacks U.S. commanders anticipate.

The Americans came on a platoon of 35 to 40 North Vietnamese in heavily fortified bunkers 15 miles northeast of Tay Ninh City and kept them pinned down with rifle, machine-gun and artillery fire until the jets rolled in.

The sweep after the air attack also turned up the bodies of two more North Vietnamese killed by the U.S. casualties were reported.

Other American reconnaissance forces north of Saigon also turned up war stores and ran into small groups of North Vietnamese soldiers, indicating the enemy is trying to get into position for a series of attacks.

Air Cavalrymen 66 miles north of Saigon found six tons of rice cached in 200 pound bags. In scattered contacts 24 to 97 miles north of the capital, U.S. forces killed 36 North Vietnamese soldiers in the last 24 hours, the U.S. Command reported. Two Americans were killed and four wounded.

Six waves of B52 bombers dropped 900 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese bases along the Cambodian border north of Saigon and along the southern edge of the demilitarized zone.

Labor Urges Nixon Plans to Keep Troop Commitment in Europe, South Korea

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to maintain the present U.S. combat troop commitment in Europe and South Korea at least through mid-1971, Pentagon sources say.

There probably will be some trimming of support troops, particularly in Europe, but the administration's present intention is not to cut back American fighting forces in the key NATO and South Korean areas either in this or the next fiscal year.

The United States now has some 320,000 servicemen in Europe, with five Army divisions forming the core of NATO defense in West Germany.

In South Korea, two U.S. Army divisions are posted to help defend that country from any North Korean movement across the demilitarized zone. American military strength in Korea numbers about 55,000.

The decision to maintain present U.S. troop levels in Europe and Korea comes as a mild surprise for several reasons:

— The administration is well along in a comprehensive review of this country's global security policies. This could result in reduction of U.S. overseas obligations and conventional forces deployed abroad to back them up.

— The mood of the administration has been to encourage greater self-reliance by U.S. allies, particularly in Asia.

— The Defense Department is scaling down total U.S. conventional forces as cost-cutting pressures mount and the United States withdraws gradually from Vietnam. The 3.46 million Americans in uniform will be reduced by nearly 200,000 under orders already issued, and more

Czechs Close Borders to West Visitors

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government closed the borders to casual Western visitors today and stepped up security measures as the Communist party's Central Committee gathered to decide the political fate of Alexander Dubcek and other 1968 reformers.

The 181-member Central Committee was expected during the meeting starting today to purge from its ranks a number of the liberals and to announce former party chief Dubcek's removal from the party's 11-member ruling Presidium.

The Presidium met this morning for the second consecutive day, apparently putting finishing touches on the program of changes to be ratified by the committee.

Prague Radio carried commentary attacking the leaders in power prior to the August 1968 Soviet invasion and their policies. The party's Prague municipal committee announced a purge of 16 city committeemen for dissenting from the new policies. An announcement said two others resigned.

The Czechoslovak legation in Vienna announced that the issuance of two-day visitors' visas at the Czechoslovak-Austrian border was suspended until further notice. This was also done during the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion last month.

Police set up road controls in Prague during the night and checked motorists' identification. The guard appeared to have been doubled and plainclothes detectives were about at Communist party headquarters and at Prague Castle, site of the Presidium and Central Committee meetings.

Thinks Nixon Scores Well With Press

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, scheduling President Nixon's first formal news conference in three months for Friday, says the chief executive has a better communications batting average than his box score would indicate.

Aides defended Nixon's press relations record Wednesday in the wake of the sharpest grumbling yet by newsmen over their relationship with the President.

The conference will be Nixon's seventh since taking office last January.

After making the announcement, an official called a reporter into his office to discuss complaints which welled up during newsmen's twice-daily briefings with Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

"I am sorry this had happened," said the official. "But I think the situation should be clarified."

The timing of presidential news conference depends in large measure on the President's time and the availability of public attention and the official said both have been in short supply since Nixon held his last formal news conference June 19.

Calhoun Co. Hospital Will Close

HAMPTON, Ark. (AP) — The only hospital in Calhoun County is scheduled to close Saturday because it can't meet some of the medicare standards and can't afford to operate without medicare participation, officials said.

"Without medicare payments, the hospital has to lose money on treatment of people who are too poor to pay for all of their medical cost, and some people just go to other counties to hospitals where medicare payments are given," said Hollis Bray, administrator of the Calhoun County Hospital.

Closing the hospital in this town of 1,011 residents would leave the closest hospital 23 miles away at Fordyce. Also available are hospitals 24 miles away at Camden and 27 miles distant to El Dorado.

Burglary More Than Ordinary

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Apparently, it was more than "ordinary" burglars who burglarized a safe at the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. plant sometime Monday night.

Authorities said an employee told them the safe was guaranteed by the manufacturer to withstand the efforts of an "ordinary burglar" for 24 hours.

The burglars, who police called "highly skilled professionals," took an estimated $3,000 to $4,000 in cash and checks,

Tape Recording of Council Meets Legal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Wednesday it was all right to tape record the proceedings of a city council meeting as long as it didn't interfere with the business of the meeting.

R. O. Bunch, an alderman at Louann in Quachita County, had written the attorney general's office saying that the brother of the mayor brought his tape recorder to the council room and turned off fans used to cool the room because the recorder wouldn't work with them running.

In an opinion given state Rep. Gladys Glesby of Stamps, the attorney general's office said revenue from the 1969 real estate transfer tax stamp law couldn't be used for local matching funds.

Inmate's Body Found in River

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The body of Walter M. Clemons, 25, a Cummins Prison Farm inmate, was found Wednesday in the Arkansas River.

Authorities speculated that he had tried to swim the river and drowned.

Officers said Clemons had walked off a work detail and escaped Sept. 17. He was serving five years from Crittenden County for grand larceny.

His body was found in a section of the river bordering the prison.

11 Students Walk Out at Forrest City

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — About 11 white students walked out of Forrest City High School Wednesday morning and picketed classes briefly before leaving the grounds.

James DeRossitt, president of hmbSchool Board, said he hadn't been able to determine why the students left classes, but he said the walkout was "ridiculous."

DeRossitt said eight of the students returned to school later in the day.

Police Chief Marvin Gunn said a few girls were among the pickets.

Forrest City Schools were closed last Thursday and Friday after a walkout by 46 white students who claimed they were intimidated and threatened by Negro students. The schools reopened Monday.

DeRossitt said the high school had its "best day" in recent weeks Wednesday. He added that the School Board would deal sternly with additional walkouts.

"We are going to run a tight school and have discipline to prevent this," he said. "We will leave no stone unturned."

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. DAVID D. GRIFFIN

The soft glow of candlelight formed the setting Friday, September 19 for the wedding of Miss Betty Sue Gaines and David D. Griffin. The Reverend Gordon Renshaw performed the double-ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the Unity Baptist Church of Hope.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Charles Gaines, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Griffin, all of Hope.

The Couple exchanged marriage vows before an altar decorated with southern smilax with long, burning tapers flanked with floor baskets of white gladioli. Satin streamers and smilax marked the pews.

Edward Cooper, organist, presented a selection of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of traditional white peau de sole fashioned with a sabina neckline and long sleeves that ended in lily points over the hands. The Empire bodice carried an A-line skirt trimmed with a re-embroidered lace motif in a grape pattern with pearl trim. Her chapel train was a removable mantle with scallops of re-embroidered Alecon lace.

Her headpiece, an original design, was a white peau de sole rose trimmed with which hung a four-tiered veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Fleur D'Amour centered with a Cattleya orchid. The bride wore the traditional "something old, new, borrowed, and blue with a six-pence in her shoe." Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gaines chose a navy blue knit suit with white accessories. She wore a white cymbidium orchid at her shoulder. The groom's mother, Mrs. Griffin, wore a mellow yellow and gray costume suit with matching accessories. She wore a yellow cymbidium orchid.

Miss Darla Kay James was in charge of the bride's book. Ushers were George Wright Jr. of Little Rock, brother-in-law of the bride and Tommy L. Still of Hope.

Master Scott Brown and Master Allen Brown distributed rice bags to the guest.

For travel the bride chose a red, white and blue coat suit with matching accessories. Her orchid corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television networks anticipated months ago the conclusions reached by the report of the National Commission on Violence released Wednesday.

The commission's statement that "violence on television encourages violent forms of behavior" obviously presented a problem for action shows. But script writers already were presenting substitutes. One was displayed over the past two nights: sightlessness.

"Lancer," on CBS, began its second season Tuesday with one of its regular leads temporarily blinded by a sniper's bullet—and the action went from there. Later on the same night, an ABC show, "Seven in Darkness," told of seven blind people stranded on a mountain.

Wednesday night, NBC's "The Virginian" was a victim—he was blinded by a fall. For most of the show he groped from one peril to another—from poisonous snakes to horse thieves. It ended well when the Virginian was rescued just as he was about to be trampled by wild horses, and he was cured up by that handy prescription—taking it easy for a few days.

"Hawaii Five-O," the CBS police series with its dramatic island backgrounds, also has returned without visible damage from the nonviolence policy. Wednesday night's tale was a switch on the well-used gimmick on war bride swindles.

This time B-girls were collecting widow's insurance money on dead soldiers by means of faked marriage licenses. Three of them died upon receiving their money.

In this case, however, the heavy was portrayed somewhat sympathetically as a psychopath avenging his dead brother.

One man with a heart condition was murdered by being frightened to death, and the bad guy was gunned down in a shootout that lasted only a few seconds.

HELEN HELP US!

CHARM SCHOOL CONCENTRATES ON WRONG PERSON

Dear Helen: My girl friend goes to a charm course every Wednesday night. It is given free by the business where she works, and is only for women.

When I saw her last Thursday she had a list of good manners for me. They had spent the whole lesson on etiquette for MEN. Example: Opening car doors, etc.

The manners for men were fine, but when she asked her teacher about how a girl should act toward a guy, she was told a woman need not show any respect towards a man!

I disagree with the instructor's statement. I figure this charm course was a waste of time because it was supposed to make my GIRL charming, not me! The reason why young men don't show much chivalry toward women is because many girls don't show good manners toward men.

Please help me prove my point by giving me a small list of good manners for women to use on men. — MARK.

Dear Mark: One rule will cover everything: Treat a man with the same consideration you expect from him. If the charm course teacher disagrees, I'd suggest your girl become a dropout. — H.

Dear Helen: My boy friend is not a sissy, or a mama's boy, but he HATES travel. He won't even go with his parents on a trip.

I love travel. Our parents let us go places with the kids, but I usually end up going alone as he refuses. If I insist, he breaks out in hives and almost cries real tears.

This isn't just long trips, but any place over a few miles away from home.

We have talked of getting married, as we are both out of school and working, but I don't want to marry someone who won't even go on a honeymoon!

He promises to overcome this fear. I don't see any improvement. Do you suppose he can correct it? Could we ever be happy together when I like to go and he wants to stay put? — NEVER HOMESICK ME.

Dear N.H.M.: A roamer and a "homer" would be as compatible as a paddle wheel on a speedboat. I think your boy friend needs a shot of professional counseling. — H.

Dear Helen: The only thing my parents have against my fiancé is that he isn't in top physical

Patchwork Not for Squares—It's 'In'

Not for fashion squares is this patchwork skirt, stitched of prettily contrasting fabric patches and belted to make one of the most appealing fashions for the fall and winter season.

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

It all began with grandma who used up her dressmaking leftovers to make patchwork quilts. Now patchwork has hit the fashion world, and the smartest outfit a party-bound lady can wear is a floor-length patchwork skirt, teamed with a solid-shade shirt in soft lawn or voile.

Though patchwork is very, very in, don't get so carried away that you cut up the family heirlooms. Make your own patchwork from contemporary materials—it's easy and fun. The Fall-Winter issue of Basic Fashion, available exclusively to readers of this newspaper, features instructions for making your own patchwork skirt:

1. Select pieces of similar weight, texture and fiber content—plain and printed cottons for a square-dance look; silks, satins and velvets for a dressier skirt.

2. Determine the size of the square and make a cardboard pattern, allowing 1/2-inch seam allowance all around. (A 5-inch cut square will make a 4-inch patch piece.)

3. Cut plenty of patches on the straight of the goods, and arrange for best effect.

4. Join squares to make horizontal strips, and press seams open.

5. Join strips to make fabric lengths, pin-basting to be sure seams align accurately. Press crosswise seams open. If desired, top stitch with straight stitching 1/8-inch from seamlines, or cover seamlines with decorative stitching. Topstitching may be used to attach lining to patchwork. Baste it into position first.

To make a dirndl skirt such as the one pictured today, figure skirt width for about 2 1/2 times your waist measure, plus 3-inch hem allowance. A 24-inch waist would require a piece of patchwork about 60 inches wide, or 15 of the 4-inch squares.

The new issue of Basic Fashion features approximately 100 pattern designs, each with a detailed Photo-Guide for easy sewing. The Young Originals group represents the best styles from the Fashion Design Department of the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, with a fresh, young fashion outlook and a helpful Co-ordinator which suggests colors, fabrics, costume variations and accessories. The Grace Cole originals offer slimming fashion for the hard-to-fit figure. Mother-daughter outfits, dresses for little girls, aprons and gift suggestions are featured, along with style leaders such as pantsuits, capes and coordinated ensembles in every size range.

To order your copy of Basic Fashion, send 50 cents to Basic Fashion, c/o this newspaper, Box 563, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to include your own name, address and zip.

The 1969 Needlework Album, also available for 50 cents, contains a generous selection of patchwork designs for quilts, aprons, pillows, dolls and potholders, as well as patterns for hats, crochets, cross-stitchery, smocking and other handwork specialties. Amazing, incredible, miraculous, implausible.

Take your pick. The latest accomplishment of the New York Mets is all four of those words... and more.

The darlings of the downtrodden, the ragamuffins of the National League for seven endless summers, finally achieved the impossible dream of 1969 by winning the NL East pennant via a 6-0 victory over St. Louis Wednesday night.

And, 54,928 hysterical fans at Shea Stadium and four dozen equally hysterical ball players turned themselves inside out with a celebration that lasted until the early morning hours.

Cries of "Beautiful... Beautiful... Beautiful" echoed through the Mets' dressing room as the players dumped bottle after bottle of champagne on each other and anyone else who happened to be near.

"It's a great thing for the owners and the organization," said Manager Gil Hodges, one of the original Mets during the fading days of his playing career. "I remember 1962 (when the Mets won only 40 games)..."

"We've got ours (the division title) now, and we'll just have to wait and see about the West."

Tony Gonzalez and the lowly San Diego Padres did their best Wednesday night to help give the Mets a post-season trip to the South, instead of to the West.

Gonzalez hammered a solo homer in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie as surging Atlanta won its sixth straight, a 2-1 conquest of Houston.

That, combined with the Padres' 3-2 ambush of second-place San Francisco and Juan Marichal, gave the Braves a 1 1/2 game lead over the Giants in the West Division chase.

Cincinnati, meanwhile, remained just three games off the pace with a 7-2 victory over Los Angeles that knocked the Dodgers out of contention.

Chicago defeated Montreal 6-3 in the only other NL game. Philadelphia's match at Pittsburgh was postponed because of wet grounds.

In the American League, Chicago shaded Oakland 2-1, California topped Seattle 3-1, Minnesota checked Kansas City 2-1, Baltimore nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings, Boston blanked New York 1-0 in 11 innings and Washington took a doubleheader from Detroit, 8-4 and 7-4.

Donn Clemenzen slammed two homers and Ed Charles one while Gary Gentry twirled a four-hitter in blanking the Cards — the 34th victory in 44 games for the Mets, who climbed from 9 1/2 back of Chicago during that span.

"In the spring I felt the club was an improved one and when a team is improved anything can happen," said Hodges. "But I never dreamed of this."

Hodges, who suffered a heart attack just a year and one day before the Mets' clincher, appeared calm in the sea of hysterical insanity that prevailed in the Mets' dressing room.

"It's not that I'm not excited," he laughed. "I'm happy, I'm thrilled for them. But I'm a little older than they are. Take off about 25 years and I'd be running wild, too."

Steve Carlton, who struck out a modern major league record of 19 in his last start against the Mets, managed just one whiff Wednesday night — and it was the only one he got.

Clemenzen tagged him for a three-run homer and Charles slammed a two-run blast as the Mets exploded for five runs in the first inning. Clemenzen hit his solo shot in the fifth.

Gonzalez reached the center field bleachers with his winning homer to break up a tight pitching duel between the Braves Pat Jarvis, 12-11, who finished with a three-hitter, and Tom Griffin.

The Astros had grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first on Joe Morgan's 15th homer, but Atlanta came back in the second on Orlando Cepeda's walk and Bob Didier's double.

San Diego combined Ollie Brown's RBI double with a two-run error by outfielder Jim Ray Hart on a dropped fly ball for a three-run first inning in whipping the Giants for the second LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There is only one blemish on Fort Smith Northside's record for the past 27 games — a 3-3 tie with Pine Bluff last year.

The Grizzlies will have an opportunity for revenge Friday, playing the Zebras at Pine Bluff.

Since Bill Stancil took over as head coach of the Grizzlies in 1957, the Northside-Pine Bluff series has been one filled with defensive struggles.

The largest margin of victory during the past 12 years came in 1966 when the Grizzlies won 10-0. The most points Northside has scored came in a 20-16 loss in 1957.

Northside holds a 7-4-1 edge over Pine Bluff during that period. Only Little Rock Hall, which trails the Grizzlies 6-4, has done as well.

Friday's game appears to be one of the biggest mismatches in the series.

Northside is ranked first in the state in The Associated Press poll and has a powerful ground game with Billy Joe Releford and Robert Owens.

Pine Bluff has won only once in three tries.

This may be the year the Grizzlies score more than 16 points. NORTHSIDE 21, PINE BLUFF 7.

Little Rock Hall opens its Class AAAA campaign against North Little Rock Southwest Friday night.

Hall is unbeaten and ranked second in the state while the Wildcats were upset last week by Little Rock Horace Mann.

Southwest was impressive in a four-team jamboree the first week of the season, but the Warriors appear headed toward a showdown with the Grizzlies.

HALL 17, NLR SOUTHWEST 7.

McGehee and Pine Bluff Dolarway meet Friday night with nothing but pride at stake. McGehee is the top-ranked team in Class A and Dolarway is one of the best in AA. Both are unbeaten and McGehee has not give up a score of any kind in three games. DOLLARWAY 10, MCGEEHEE 7.

Last week's percentage was a dismal .654, dropping the season's percentage to .694. Here are other selections:

El Dorado 14, McClellan 7; LR Central 20, LR Mann 14; West Memphis 13, Blytheville 7; DeWitt 7, Forrest City 6; Marianna 13, Helena 7; Jonesboro 20, Stuttgart 14; LR Catholic 14, Malvern 6; FS Southside 20, Fayetteville 13; Hot Springs 21, Benton 7; Springfield 13, Seneca, Mo., 7; Texarkana 13, Shreveport Woodlawn 10; Rogers 20, Bentonville 12; Harrison 19, Mountain Home 13; Huntsville 7, Siloam Springs 6; Subiaco 21, Van Buren 6; Paragould 20, Batesville 7; Truman 13, Pocahontas 6; Wynne 19, Park 7; Brinkley Anderson 27, Blytheville Harrison 21; Marianna Strong 20, Helena Miller 14.

Russellville 20, Conway 14; Bald Knob 14, Searcy 7; Pine Bluff Merrill 20, Camden Lincoln 6; LR Metropolitan 7, Dermott 6; Sheridan 20, Sylvan Hills 7; Watson Chapel 7, Bryant 6; LR Wilbur Mills 13, Cabot 7; Pine Bluff Southeast 20, Pine Bluff Coleman 14; LR Parkview 13, Augusta 6; Arkadelphia 20, Prescott 13; Camden Fairview 20, Warren 6; Hope 20, Smackover 13; Monticello 13, Star City 6; Camden 20, Fordyce 6; Magnolia 14, Crossett 13; Ashdown 20, Mena 7.

Quarterback Wally Blucas, architect of Indiana's undefeated regular season in 1968, got the Indians off on the right path in their 1969 curtain-raiser. He completed nine-of-15 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns.

Halfback Frank Lewis, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound junior, ripped off runs of 63 and 87 yards as Grambling smashed Morgan State. The Tigers also showed an unyielding defense that staged three stands inside the five-yard line.

Northern Arizona brought its 1969 record to 2-0 by dumping West Texas State. Sonny Campbell, the Northern Arizona quarterback, directed the offense and kicked the decisive extra point in last weekend's victory.

Broyles Some Happier With His Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles was a little happier with his No. 3-ranked Razorbacks after Wednesday's workout.

"The passers and receivers looked a little better than they have recently," Broyles said. "The defense had a lot of enthusiasm, particularly the defensive backs."

The Razorbacks worked out for two hours in pads. They were to drill today in sweat clothes in preparation for Saturday's meeting with Tulsa at the Astro-Turf of Razorback Stadium in Fayetteville.

Weather forecasters did not promise dry conditions — at least for the start of the tournament.

Golfers Are Hopeful for a Dry Alcan

By ED GROSSWILER
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The second March of Golfers in modern times took place Wednesday without a drop of rain — giving an international field of 24 golfers hope for a dry Alcan Golfer of the Year tournament.

The March of Golfers is a tradition at least 120 years old and it was renewed two years ago when Alcan held its first Golfer of the Year tournament at the Old Course in St. Andrews, Scotland.

However, the march preceding last year's tournament at Royal Birkdale in England was cancelled by a driving rainstorm. The rain lasted three of the tournament's four days. And backers of the $139,000 event face the prospect of another wet year in Portland.

Weather forecasters did not promise dry conditions — at least for the start of the tournament.

Howard Ties Two Others in Homers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Harmon Killebrew has earned a rest. But he probably won't get one as long as Frank Howard and Reggie Jackson keep swinging their big bats.

Howard slammed his 47th home run Wednesday night in the opener of Washington's 8-4, 7-4 doubleheader sweep over Detroit and tied Killebrew and Reggie Jackson for the major league lead.

Killebrew, still starting for Minnesota two days after the Twins' lock-up of the American League West Division title, went 0-for-4 in a 2-1, 10-inning victory over Kansas City. Oakland's Jackson was 0-for-3 as the Athletics bowed to the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

Baltimore's East Division champions nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings; Boston edged the New York Yankees 1-0 in 14 and California topped Seattle 3-1 in other AL games.

In the National League, the New York Mets nailed the East Division crown with a 6-0 victory over St. Louis; Atlanta remained atop the West by shading Houston 2-1; San Diego ambushed San Francisco 3-2; Cincinnati drubbed Los Angeles 7-2 and the Chicago Cubs downed Montreal 6-3. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were rained out.

Twins Manager Billy Martin would prefer to rest Killebrew for the upcoming pennant play-off against the Orioles, but will continue to write his name on the lineup card while the home run crown is up for grabs.

"If the circumstances were right, I'd like to get Harmon out of there," Martin said. "But I don't think I'll be able to do it. "He's tired. He's played every game. But the home run thing means a lot to him and I'll give him his chance."

Minnesota broke a 1-1 tie in the 10th on singles by three second-stringers—Rick Renick, George Mitterwald and pinch hitter Graig Nettles. Renick also poked an eighth inning homer.

Howard's bases-empty homer, a two-run shot by Bernie Allen and Ken McMullen's three RBI — on a double and single — carried the Senators past Denny McLain, Detroit's 23-game winner, in the first game.

McMullen hit a two-run inside-the-park homer in the eighth and the Senators broke a 4-4 tie in the eighth on Del Unser's two-run triple off Mickey Lolich. Howard had a run-scoring single in five trips to the plate.

The White Sox slipped past Oakland on Bill Melton's two-run homer in the fourth inning and the four-hit pitching of Tommy John, who walked Jackson the first time he faced him and retired him easily thereafter.

Brooks Robinson cracked a run-scoring double in the 11th at Cleveland, giving the Orioles their 107th victory — four short of the Indians' 1954 record. Tony Horton's ninth inning homer off Baltimore ace Mike Cuellar sent the game into overtime.

Rookie Ken Brett and reliever Sonny Siebert held the Yankees to seven hits and the Red Sox finally pushed over a run in the 14th on George Scott's single, a sacrifice and Mike Andrews' double.

Rudy May fired a four-hitter for the Angels, who got a two-run homer from Jim Spencer and an inside-the-park circuit from Rick Reichardt.

Front-Running Fans?

NEW YORK — (NEA) — What a difference a year makes in major league attendance.

The teams with the biggest dropoffs in attendance this season have been the Detroit Tigers in the American League and the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League. They were, of course, the World Series opponents in 1968.

The biggest increases, not counting the expansion teams, have been recorded by the Washington Senators in the AL and the Chicago Cubs in the NL.

Smackover Here 7:30 Friday Night

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Anxious once more to do their thing, the Hope Bobcats host the Smackover Buckaroos of 4-AA East tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. on the Hammons Stadium turf.

A fast start has the Bucks at 2-1 now, following last week's 34-0 loss to Fairview. Two victories opened the season, as Smackover whipped Bearden 25-0 and Norphlet 19-0, but this week their offense must prove itself once more.

Under Coach Carl Preston, the Buckaroos run primarily from the Winged-T as Ashdown did, but the two running backs will frequently line up in an "I" to create a strong set. The ends will stay in tight except on obvious passing situations, when both split out and the wingback becomes essentially a flanker.

Ten lettermen start on offense, but Smackover has had to replace All-District quarterback David Chenoweth, a fine passer who kept last year's attack balanced.

To replace him, Preston has moved senior Bruce Hutcherson (150) into the signal-caller slot. Hutcherson is a fine athlete and a good runner, but injuries have plagued his high school career and his knees and back and shoulders could be suspect.

At tailback is John Henry Tatum, a senior 165-pounder who shows about 10.5 speed in the 100, and he can hit the hole as well as receiver capable. He will be spelled also by junior Benny Brain, a tough 160-pounder who scored a TD against Hope last fall.

Returnee Gerry Bussell mans the wingback post, and his 170-pound frame makes him tough to handle with his size and speed. Bussell was mainly a blocker last season, but he is able to break loose anytime.

Butch Wilkins (190) returns after a fine sophomore season at fullback, where his crunching blocks and confusing runs kept the defense off-balance. Wilkins is the key to the running game's success, for the line needs help even with its size and experience.

In the offensive line are four returning starters and six lettermen, including both senior guards.

The ends are Glenn Jackson last year's leading receiver and a prime candidate for All-District honors, and fellow senior Mike Bryant (150). Jackson has the size too at 180, and the pair should give the Hope secondary a test comparable to last week at DeQueen.

Tackle Dennis Ray, at 185 pounds the only soph on the starting offense, is flanked on the right side by Andy Bolton, a bulky 195-pound junior who played quite a bit in 1968.

Stanley Etheridge and Harry Dees make the guard spot solid for the Bucks. Both have started for two years, and both are 160-pounders with good speed to pull and lead outside play. The center is big Tad Pigage (190), a senior who started on defense last year.

That's the offense, which has rated 44 points in three games but was shut out by the mighty Fairview Cardinals last Thursday night. Their objective will certainly be to establish a passing attack, as DeQueen did last Friday with 34 attempts, and spice it up with Tatum and Wilkins carrying the ball and Bussell running reverses and such.

On defense, Smackover's problem of depth glares forth. There are ten two-way performers, and eleven counting Benny Brian's frequent offensive action. They use the wide-tackle six setup, which will be fired up to stop Bobcat swiftie Artis Martin. Their goal will be to penetrate early, because they cannot afford to let Martin break away from the eight-man front.

There are a pair of guards jamming between Hope's guards and center, two tackles on the Hope tackles' outside shoulder, and two ends playing just off their offensive counterparts. Two linebackers are constantly stunted around and many times will blitz, leaving only the three-deep secondary to handle the rest.

Etheridge and Dees are the all-important guards, who will have tough matchups in Bobcats Ronny Brown and Larry McWilliams. At the tackles are Bolton and Ray, both of whom have been tough to block so far and have good quickness.

Glenn Jackson and Tad Pigage are the men at the critical ends, for they must contain and force inside the sweeps and outside plays which have been so successful for the Bobcats. But they may not have as much responsibility as linebackers Wilkins and Tatum.

Both the linebackers played

Thursday, September 25, 1969

last year, and they did well against Hope's old slot offense. Now they face the pro set, and with a split receiver they must worry some about pass coverage rather than stacking up the middle.

Brian and Mike Bryant are the defensive halfbacks, and Brian intercepted one in the Hope game last season. Both are competent, and safety Bruce Hutcherson is good on coverage but the extra work could take away from his quarterbacking.

As it looks now, Hope QB Ronnie Massanelli could bring the Cats good fortune by reading the defense and calling some audibles. When everybody gets jams in the middle, a quick pitch or something of the like would be a killer.

That wide-tackle six can kill you, though, if you don't block it. The Bobcats must block their best of the season to keep the rushing attack consistent, and Gary Jones' crushing swipes from the fullback spot as he leads ball-carrier Artis Martin will really be needed in abundance.

Overall, it looks like a good test for the Hope defense in its effort for a third consecutive shutout, and the offense could really hit the road with a big night. These things are being said because everyone around knows that the Cats are still a long way from their potential, but getting closer with every win.

Another sellout crowd is hoped for tomorrow evening, as the Bobcats already have played before three full houses. They deserve the capacity filled and the town's support, and hopefully they will get it.

Everyone coming to the game is also urged to eat beforehand at the annual Jr. Auxiliary Spaghetti supper in the newly-re-modeled HHS cafeteria.

Admission for the supper will be $1.50 for everyone 12 or over, and 75 cents for those under 12. The event is held each year by the Auxiliary to finance two scholarships, and serving tomorrow night will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Bobkittens, Arkadelphia Play Tonight

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Tonight is the big one for the Hope Bobkittens, as the Arkadelphia Beavers come to Hammons Stadium for a battle of the unbeaten at 7:30 p.m.

For three years the Kittens have entered the game with a 2-0 record, and the scores have been 12-6, 28-14, and 13-2, all defeats. This is the fourth time in a row, and maybe the tables can be turned.

Master Sgt. Albert H. Patton, Hope, is shown cutting a ribbon with his commanding officer, Col. Turk, officially opening a dining hall which he constructed at Vieng Tau, Vietnam recently.

This is not a first for Sgt. Patton as he was in on a ribbon cutting opening another hall he built at Ton Son Nhut Air Base in Vietnam in 1966. It is the largest one in Vietnam.

During his present assignment

he supervises feeding all the flying personnel attached to this particular army base.

Sgt. Patton's family, his wife, Alice; three sons, Larry, Paul, and Scott and two daughters, Naida and Tracy, reside at 504 N. Elm and plan to make Hope their permanent home. Larry, Paul and Naida are employed by The Star as was their father years ago. Sgt. Patton returns home in mid-December.

Takes Only Good Signs to Ball Game

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For the last five years Karl Ehrhardt of New York has trudged to Shea Stadium on opening day, closing day and Friday nights with 70 signs under his arm.

But Wednesday night he only took 40.

"Tonight's special," he explained. "I left home the 30 signs I use to knock the Mets and took only the good ones . . . to celebrate."

It was the first time Ehrhardt, an advertising artist, and the thousands of Mets fans had a chance to celebrate. And what a celebration it was.

In the locker room it was bedlam as the Mets spouted champagne after beating the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0 and completing one of the most incredible turnabouts in sports history by clinching their first championship, the National League's East Division title.

But the real story still was on the field some 30 minutes after the game had ended. It was there that the fans, who had waited through seven incredibly

Sam Huff Is Defensive Pro of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — After one year in retirement 34-year-old Sam Huff is back in the violent world of pro football again. Just to show he hadn't lost the touch, Huff made 12 tackles and five assists Sunday for Washington in a 26-20 defeat of New Orleans.

As a result of this comeback effort, The Associated Press named Huff the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League. Calvin Hill, Dallas rookie running back from Yale, was named the Offensive Player of the Week.

"Playing and coaching really wears you out," said Huff who returned to the Redskins as a player-coach when Vince Lombardi moved in from Green Bay. "The first few days in training camp I thought I must have been out of my mind to come back but here I am."

Huff, went to meet Doug Atkins, 39, the Saints' defensive end who was starting his 17th pro season.

"People call me the old man," said Sam, "but Doug's really the old man. I'm practically a kid compared to him. Even Sonny (Jurgensen) is older than me (he's 36)."

Recalling the old says when he played with the New York Giants, Huff said, "I'll tell you the truth. I loved nothing more than playing against Jim Brown. There's something about going against the truly great backs that turned me on."

Baugh Thinks Namath Could Be Greatest

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sammy Baugh, acclaimed the greatest quarterback of all time, names Baltimore's Johnny Unitas as his personal choice for the honor, but says it's a shaky throne.

"If Joe Namath stays healthy and his knees don't go out on him he should be the best who ever lived," the former passing star of Texas Christian University and the pro Washington Redskins added today.

"Mistakes make Joe look bad now. But, if he can hold up, he will correct these mistakes. If he is able to play 10 or 12 years —and he should—he will outclass every quarterback who ever lived."

Baugh was in New York to be honored with other all-time football greats at a black-tie dinner Wednesday night. Eleven players were chosen on an early day all-time team and 11 on a modern all-time team, picked by members of the Football Writers Association of America.

Chosen along with Baugh, who played at TCU in 1934-36, were Jay Berwanger of Chicago (1933-35), Red Grange of Illinois (1923-25) and Ernie Nevers of Stanford (1923-25). In the backfield: Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan (1925-27) and Don Hutson of Alabama (1932-34), ends; Bronko Nagurski of Minnesota (1927-29) and Bruiser Kinard of Mississippi (1935-37), tackles; Jim Parker of Ohio State (1954-56) and Bob Snodgrass of Tennessee (1938-40), guards, and Mel Hein of Washington State 1928-30), center.

Only Red Grange could not attend. On the early day team, covering the period from 1869 to 1917, only Elmer Oliphant, who played at Purdue and Army before World War I, is still alive.

Baugh showed up Wednesday in black boots, a shoestring Texas tie and a black suit, pockets of which were stuffed with cigars. The man who threw passes, ran and kicked for the Washington Redskins for 16 years now is a cattle rancher in a place called Rotan, Tex.

Baugh was a triple-threat tailback at TCU and didn't operate from the T-formation until he joined the pros. "The first year with the T, we looked like a bunch of monkeys out there."

"Bart Starr of Green Bay is a good solid quarterback, but Unitas is a genius," Baugh said.

But this still was their night. They had cheered every batter every play, and in the ninth inning, every pitch. There was never a Mets crowd like this.

"I remember when we used to chase Joe Christopher for autographs," said Howard Cotlar of Brentwood, N.Y. "We suffered through 120 losses that first year and the fans now are still the same, although now we have something to really cheer."

There was Ehrhardt with his signs—Tonight's The Night, and The Beat Goes On, etc., etc., and of the etc., etc.

And of the hysterical mass swarming on the field, many others certainly had to be original Met fans who suffered through those first seven years with a team loved more for its bungling than its talent.

Those fans tried to steal every base off the field after the game, but, maybe as a reminder of old Mets, they missed first base.

Israel Seeking to Buy More American Arms

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Shopping list in hand, Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel hopes to convince President Nixon the United States should boost its arms sales to her embattled country.

The former Milwaukee school teacher who became leader of Israel last spring reportedly believes Middle East peace hopes lie in a strong Israeli military deterrent.

To that end she went into her scheduled meeting with Nixon today reported ready to ask for an additional 24 Phantom and 80 Skyhawk jet planes to bolster Israeli air forces and wants closer economic ties.

Her arrival in the capital coincides with reports that Israel also is negotiating with the Sikorsky Aircraft Corp. on a $337 million order for 135 helicopters.

The United States now is delivering 50 of the supersonic Phantom fighter-bombers sold to Israel by former President Lyndon B. Johnson last December for $200 million.

Henderson Dominates Statistics

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Henderson Reddies dominate the initial AIC football statistics list for this season.

Quarterback Tommy Hart heads three categories, leading in passing with 369 yards, total offense with 527 yards and scoring with 24 points. He also is second in rushing with 158 yards.

Split end Billy LeFear is first in pass receiving with 16 catches for 223 yards and teammate Charlie Jacob heads the kickoff returners with a 49.5 average.

Arkansas Tech tailback Larry Brown is the rushing leader with 208 yards. Cliff Harris of Ouachita is tops in punt returns with a 42-yard average. Larry Clary of Arkansas A&M is first in punting with a 39.3 average.

Next Shot to Mars May Decide Landing There

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The next spacecraft U.S. scientists send to Mars may play a major role in deciding whether men will visit that barren, cratered planet.

Major mission of Mariners 8 and 9, scheduled to be launched a week apart in May 1971 is to map 70 per cent of the Martian surface and find sites suitable for unmanned landings in 1973.

The 2,200-pound vehicles will be programmed to orbit as close as 1,000 miles for up to a year with television cameras capable of showing objects the size of a football field.

The cameras and electronic sensors are expected to return enough information to help planners decide whether manned exploration is feasible.

The success of Mariners 6 and 7 last August prompted proposals for manned landings in the next decade—and controversy over whether such a project would be worth its multimillion-dollar cost. Dan Schneiderman, Mariner 1971 project manager at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, says Mariners 8 and 9 should enlarge man's knowledge of the still mysterious planet at least 250 times.

In an interview giving the first detailed plans of the new project, Schneiderman said: "Unmanned landings on Mars are scheduled in the Viking program in 1973 and from both these programs—Mariner and Viking—should come the information needed for a manned landing."

Schneiderman gave this rundown on plans for the $100 million-plus 1971 project:

Both spacecraft will fly closer to Mars than the 1969 Mariners, which came within 2,000 miles. One will have an orbit ranging from 1,000 to 10,500 miles. The other will circle from 1,500 to 27,000 miles.

They will have the same television systems as the 1969 Mariners but the closer range will enable them to photograph features 300 feet across, compared with 900 feet for this year's pictures.

Designed to stay in orbit at least three months and perhaps a year, the 1971 Mariners will send back thousands of pictures. The 1969 Mariners televised 200. One of the 1971 vehicles will map 70 per cent of the surface, compared with 20 per cent covered by the 1969 vehicles.

The other will provide the first close-up record of unexpected seasonal changes. Among these is progressive darkening which begins near the polar caps in spring and moves toward the equator.

Early astronomers thought this meant the polar caps were composed of frozen water that melted and irrigated vast fields of vegetation. The 1969 Mariners found the caps were made of frozen carbon dioxide, toxic to plant life. They did not, however, suggest an alternate explanation for the color change.

Wednesday's hearing, given over to opponents, was sparsely attended by committee members. Most of the day only three or four senators were present.

In addition to Schlossberg, spokesmen for the AFL-CIO and the electrical workers union urged rejection of Haynsworth,

Conference Players of the Week

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

Late in the fourth quarter California was driving steadily toward the Texas goal line against the Longhorns subs when suddenly they made a U-turn and went straight back 14 yards.

The Cal reversal coincided with the return to the lineup of "large" Leo Brooks, who waded into the California backfield and deposited sub quarterback Dave Penhapi for losses on two of three plays.

Brooks' handwork helped the Longhorns blank Cal 17-0 and earned him the first Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week honor for 1969.

Sophomore Steve Judy played like a veteran in his first varsity game for Texas Christian, completing 19 passes for four touchdowns in a 42-35 loss to Purdue. Judy engineered the Frogs to a 35-7 deficit and earned Offensive Player of the Weeks honors.

"App I know is when Brooks went back in there, California started moving in the other direction," said Texas defensive line coach R. M. Patterson. "They were down to our 20 when he went in and three plays later they were on their 34. He threw the quarterback back both times."

Patterson said Brooks appeared a little quicker this season "but he gets that from knowing his way around. He's able to spot the pass."

Brooks, who switched to his defensive tackle position for the Oklahoma game last year, agrees.

"Last year I had to switch from offense and it took me awhile to get rolling," Brooks said. "Also, I didn't gain any weight over the summer, so I'm getting off the ball better this year."

Brooks, a 6-foot-6, 244-pound (accounting for his nickname) senior from Kermit, was credited with 10 tackles against California, an unusual feat for a down lineman.

Other defensive players receiving votes included Denton Fox, Texas Tech; and Bruce James, Arkansas.

"Except for those two interceptions, I threw, I was real pleased with my performance," said a confident Judy of his first varsity start. "Naturally I was nervous but any sophomore would be in his first game."

"I never thought we were out of the ball game even when we were behind 35-7," he said.

Judy, the first sophomore to start at quarterback for TCU since 1952, said he felt the Frogs could have won the game if they could have gotten possession at the end.

Judy said TCU coach Fred Taylor had told him the Frogs would go for a two-point conversion if they scored a touchdown in the waiting moments of play. A TD and two-point play would have given TCU a 43-42 victory.

"I felt all along like we had the ability to move the ball and could score on them," Judy said. "I didn't think I would throw as much as I did but when you're behind like we were, you have to pass more."

Judy was a high school teammate at Longview with University of Texas quarterback James Street.

Other offensive players receiving votes were Linzy Cole, TCU; Bill Montgomery, and Bill Burnett, both Arkansas; and Joe Matulica, Texas Tech.

Falcons Take Over Lead in Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin's teams are supposed to be known for their passing but his Atlanta Falcons opened the National Football League season with a big ground effort that left them leading the league in rushing, according to league statistics released today.

Rookie running back Paul Gipson came off the bench to pace the rushers with 69 yards and one touchdown on five carries as Atlanta rushed for 229 yards in a 24-12 win over San Francisco.

The defensive leader was Green Bay which shut out the Chicago Bears 17-0 and allowed only 204 yards, 90 on the ground and 114 in the air.

St. Louis jumped into an early lead in getting to the quarterback, dropping the Dallas quarterback six times but losing the game, 24-3.

If someone has his eye on your job, he's loafing.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:

1880—Hope News founded by Lewry Brothers.

1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C.E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president —balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Hijacker Says Army Gave Him Raw Deal

MIAMI (AP) — A khaki-clad hijacker directed a National Airlines jet to Cuba, declaring, "The Army gave me a raw deal and I'm fed up."

Stewardess Francine G. Palmisano, 21, said the dark-haired man in an Army sergeant's uniform went back to the Boeing 727's galley, pointed a gun at her and said, "We're going to Cuba" when the plane was over Daytona Beach Wednesday night.

"The man . . . said he had eight and a half years in the service. He said he was being transferred from Puerto Rico to Anchorage, said the Army gave him a rough deal and he just didn't want to go," she said.

Capt. Walter F. Kuehner, 50, said the soldier, a woman and a small baby remained in Cuba when the plane flew to Miami today.

The airline said the plane had 73 passengers and a crew of seven when it was hijacked. The jet was en route to Miami from Newark, N.J.

Last surviving member of the Grand Army of the Republic was Albert Woolson of Duluth, Minn., who died in 1956 at the age of 109.

Sweet Willie's Trial Delayed a Full Year

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The trial of Lance "Sweet Willie Wine" Watson on a charge of being a disorderly person the night angry whites lashed him up Aug. 26 was postponed for a year Wednesday by Municipal Judge O. H. Hargraves.

Watson did not appear in Municipal Court for what was to have been his trial on the charge, filed by City Attorney Knox Kinney. Phil Kaplan of Little Rock, Watson's lawyer, said the leader of a Memphis black militant group feared for his life in Forrest City and wanted a change of venue.

Hargraves said he would continue the case and the $1,000 peace bond Watson is under and review it each month, but attorneys agreed to try the case without Watson. The judge then decided to continue it for a year.

Watson was charged in connection with an incident the night of Aug. 26 when whites in a crowd of several hundred persons accosted him, causing him to fall and break his elbow. Watson also suffered lacerations.

The incident happened after Watson, who originally came to Forrest City to help organize a Negro boycott of white merchants, had conducted a 130-mile "walk against fear" from West Memphis to Little Rock.

In asking for a change of venue, Kaplan said the request was warranted according to press reports. He noted a statement by Dr. George McPhail of Forrest City before a meeting of whites that "You can rough up a few Sweet Willies and be within the law."

Kinney said newspaper reports often were taken out of context or were erroneous. He said Watson's conduct the night of Aug. 26 created a disturbance.

Bob Mosley, 39, a farmer and real estate broker, said he was in front of City Hall when Watson was beaten and described the scene before Watson arrived as "a group of white people standing around and talking."

He said there was no disturbance and no indication of a riot.

He testified that Watson and four to six other Negroes then appeared with a larger group of Negroes "coming up the other side."

Mosley said a scuffle broke out and some persons started to throw bottles and bricks after Watson said something, although he couldn't hear what it was.

Virgil Merrill, 39, a real estate and insurance man, said he heard Watson say, "Get the hell out of the way." Merrill said the crowd became disorderly and Watson "bumped a man."

At the request of Kinney and over the objections of Kaplan, Police Chief Marvin Gunn read a listing of Watson's police record in Memphis. Gunn said, however, that Watson had done nothing to break the law in Forrest City.

Gunn said under questioning by Kaplan that it was a "possibility" that there would be trouble "by either Negro or white" if Watson returned to Forrest City.

Kaplan summed up his case by saying, "He (Watson) was attempting to walk down the streets of the United States of America."

Scott, Griffin Will Lead Republicans

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a campaign like no other, an intensive round of politicking for the votes of politicians waged largely in private, in the sanctuary reserved to senators.

At stake was the Senate Republican leadership, and the man who emerged at the top after all the inside, intramural vote-gathering was Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott.

Along with the title of the No. 1 Senate Republican, he won an ornate new office, a chauffeured black limousine and a $7,000-a-year pay raise.

And Sen. Robert P. Griffin, 45, of Michigan, the party's new whip, has stepped into position to one day claim the succession to the leadership post and its side prerogatives.

Scott and Griffin defeated the same man, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee, in votes a scant four hours apart.

Baker lost the leadership to Scott, 24 votes to 19; the whip post to Griffin, 23-20.

For challenger Baker, it was a crushing end to a 12-day campaign for the leadership left open by the death of his father-in-law, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Baker had spurned suggestions that he drop from the main race in a deal to take the party's No. 2 job, as whip.

When he finally, and reluctantly, became a candidate for the second job, it was too late.

Baker acknowledged the job of campaigning among senators was a difficult task. And that was particularly true for a relative newcomer, only three years a senator, challenging an elder.

Scott worked with the traditions of seniority on his side. He worked hard, too, to stress the theme of legitimacy — the idea that as whip, and as acting leader since Dirksen's death, he was entitled to a promotion.

Baker's youth was his major asset—but a major liability as well. To some senators he was a fresh new face, the man to represent the party in a new generation.

But to other, senior colleagues, Baker was an upstart a junior senator defying the protocol of seniority.

Baker's campaign got off to an early start by proxy. Sen. Robert Packwood of Oregon said he had started billing Baker as a leadership candidate as soon as Dirksen was hospitalized Sept. 2.

Packwood and a corps of other conservative-to-moderate Senate newcomers formed the original Baker cadre.

Within three days after Dirksen's death they had Sen. Barry Goldwater interested in Baker's candidacy. Baker himself was making arrangements for Dirksen memorial services, and did not return to the Senate until Sept. 12.

Scott was a model of caution and propriety during that funeral week. He would not, Scott said repeatedly from his acting leader's front row desk, even discuss an effort to succeed Dirksen.

His supporters, led by Sen. Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, were at work in the cloakrooms, in the inner offices, out of sight.

New Treat for All Yam Lovers

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Cajun farmers, their families and friends had a more significant harvest festival this October. The town of Opelousas, La., center of the Yambilee and surrounding farm area, escaped Hurricane Camille's destructive impact.

Through the years the growers met to crown a new Yam Queen and King and a new Champion Yam Cook from teen-agers taking home economics. This fall was no exception. Along with yams in every form — baked, boiled, fried, in puddings, pies and puffs—there are parades and rides, something for everyone.

Here is a Louisiana yam puff recipe yam lovers across the nation will enjoy.

LOUISIANA YAM PUFF

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups cooked mashed Louisiana yams (about 2 to 3 medium yams)
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Yam puff adds to table variety.

- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 5 eggs, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar

Grease a 5-cup shallow casserole and set aside. Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour until smooth. Stir constantly over medium heat until mixture turns light brown. Blend in milk gradually and bring mixture to a boil. Remove from heat and mix in yams, peel, seasonings and sugar. Set mixture aside to cool slightly. Meanwhile, beat egg yolks until light and fluffy; blend yolks with yam mixture.

Sprinkle cream of tartar over egg whites in large mixing bowl; beat until stiff but not dry. Blend about one-third of whites into yam mixture, then fold in remaining whites. Pour mixture into prepared casserole and set in pan containing hot water, about 1 1/2 inches deep. Bake in 350-degree oven 55 to 60 minutes or until knife comes out clean when inserted in center. Makes 6 servings.

Fresh Orange & Chicken Go Together

Both chicken and Valencia oranges are good buys right now. Chicken is one of the most economical meats in the market. Valencia from California and Arizona are on the United States Department of Agriculture list of Plentiful Foods for September. In Golden Fried Chicken, these two foods combine in a dish that is thrifty enough for a budget family meal or fine enough for an elegant dinner party.

Fresh orange enhances the delicately flavored chicken meat. Lightly browned, the chicken simmers until tender in the golden sweetness of fresh orange juice, grated peel and brown sugar. Unpeeled orange slices garnish to perfection this easy-to-make chicken treat that's delicious served hot or cold.

Take advantage of your local market's special values and serve Golden Fried Chicken this fall. And buy extra oranges when they are so plentiful for nutritious snacks and school lunch box treats.

GOLDEN FRIED CHICKEN

(4 to 6 servings)

3 pounds frying chicken parts
Salt
Flour
1/2 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons freshly grated orange peel

1/2 cup freshly squeezed orange juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
California orange slices

Season chicken pieces on all sides with salt to taste; coat well with flour. Brown in hot oil until richly browned and crispy. Pour off any excess oil. Combine orange peel and juice and brown sugar; pour over chicken. Cover and cook over low heat until tender, about 30 minutes. Serve hot or cold, garnished with fresh orange slices.

Start School Day With Adequate Breakfast

It's the smart mother who gets behind the September Breakfast Month drive. Skipping on breakfast is a health hazard to many children and teens. A nutrition study revealed that those who dash off to school without an adequate morning meal do not make up their nutritional needs later in the day.

Breakfast should supply a quarter of the day's essential nutrients. An acceptable breakfast to nutritionists may consist of fruit, cereal with milk, buttered toast and a glass of milk. There is always leeway for variety with this basic pattern. How about a hot bread, occasionally, such as English Oat Scones? They've been modernized with biscuit mix and uncooked oatmeal.

English Oat Scones

2 cups prepared biscuit mix
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular, uncooked

1/2 cup currants or seedless raisins
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 cup light molasses

Combine biscuit mix, sugar and cinnamon in mixing bowl; mix. Cut butter or margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender until mixture resembles fine meal. Stir in oats and currants or raisins. Add egg, milk and molasses; stir until dry ingredients are moistened. Spread evenly over bottom of a well-greased 9-inch round cake pan. Mark into 8 even wedges with floured knife. Bake in hot oven (400°F) until done, about 25 minutes. Cool in pan 5 minutes before turning out. Serve hot or cold with butter or margarine. Yield: 8 servings.

Cutoff Delay Affects Two State Districts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two among 39 in nine Southern states that have received an indefinite delay in the cutoff of federal funds for failure to meet federal desegregation guidelines.

The districts are Watson Chapel and Augusta.

The delays came in a directive issued last week by Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. The action was not disclosed until this week.

The delays underscored a top Republican's prediction that funds will soon be restored to districts which already have lost federal aid.

The cases were sent back to hearing examiners for reconsideration by Finch in light of an August 12 ruling by the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Court's decision held that in order to cut off funds, an agency must prove "either that a particular program is itself administered in a discriminatory manner or is so affected by discriminatory practices that it thereby becomes discriminatory."

The ruling was handed down in a case involving Taylor County, Fla., one of those recommended by Finch.

Finch's order sent all cases back to hearing examiners "for further action consistent with the holding of the decision" in the Taylor case.

He had indicated Sunday that

Petition Asks Woman's Release

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A petition seeking the release of Mrs. Ruth Masner Estes from the Arkansas Penitentiary was filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court at Little Rock.

Monday, Mrs. Estes began serving a six-month sentence for illegally moving her two children to Puerto Rico.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley gave the state attorney general's office 10 days in which to respond to the petition, but added that "the court has doubt that the petition raises any substantial federal question."

he would not cut off federal funds to Southern school districts until the Supreme Court ruled on the Taylor case. The government has not appealed the Taylor ruling.

Finch said he "thought" he would appeal the case, but said in the meantime there would be no more cutoffs.

His order was signed September 17, the day the Southern Governor's Conference adopted a resolution urging "restraint" in the busing of pupils to achieve integration.

Superintendent L. L. Owen of Watson Chapel said that his school was operating under the so-called freedom-of-choice method of segregation. He said his school had been receiving federal funds only on a "deferred basis," meaning no new programs would be funded by the federal government. The school had been receiving $45,000 in federal aid to schools serving children of workers at federal installations and $130,000 in Title I funds.

McClellan Wants Grants for Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., today asked President Nixon not to impose a planned 75 per cent cutback in federal grants-in-aid for state and local construction, declaring that the impact of such a move "would be devastating."

In a message to the White House, McClellan said the cutback in Arkansas would mean a decrease in federal matching funds for highway construction from $32 million to approximately $6.5 million.

He said the cutback would cause a long delay in the construction in many vital improvements and would ultimately require additional expenditures to overcome disruption, deterioration, and increased costs.

"Because of inflationary pressures and a 75 per cent reduction of direct federal construction already in force, the construction industry is moving to a virtual standstill," McClellan said.

"Such a drastic reduction will certainly prove the false economy and be adverse to and hinder national progress," McClellan said.

Crash Death Placed at 28

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The death toll in the crash Sunday of a Mexicana Airlines jetliner as it landed at Mexico City now stands at 28, the airline reported Tuesday night.

Ninety persons survived the crash. Eighty-three were still hospitalized, and seven were treated and released.

More than half of those killed were Americans, as were the majority of the injured. Five of the dead were crew members.

Twenty-four bodies have been identified and four persons are listed as missing, the airline said. Two of the missing have been identified as Americans.

The plane was on a flight from Chicago and carried 111 passengers and a crew of seven.

The cause of the crash has not been determined.

Haynsworth Regrets His Stock Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he regrets purchasing stock in a company involved in a case before his court in 1967 and has told a Senate committee: "I'm not going to get in this predicament again."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court, pleaded his case with some apparent success in a second appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

"I guess you will be (confirmed)," said Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., who has taken the lead in probing conflicts of interest charges against Haynsworth at confirmation hearings.

Bayh appeared to be conceding Haynsworth's confirmation before even hearing today's scheduled testimony from more than 20 witnesses, most opposing the South Carolinian.

Another committee member,

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said "It would be one of the greatest tragedies the American people could suffer" if Haynsworth were disqualified because of his purchase of 1,000 shares of Brunswick Corp. stock.

Haynsworth said "It never entered my mind" that he had sat on a case involving Brunswick just before purchasing the stock for $16,000. He said the case had been decided at that time, although the decision was not made public until several months later.

The case involved rival claims by Brunswick and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over equipment of a bowling alley proprietor who owed money to both. A lower court awarded the equipment to Brunswick and the circuit court sustained the ruling.

"You wish you had never heard of the Brunswick stock?" asked Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky.

"I do, indeed," Haynsworth replied.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told reporters he was reevaluating what he had earlier described as his reluctant support of Haynsworth's nomi-

Rogers Seems Encouraged About Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers' first meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko gave the American some encouragement about possibilities for negotiations.

Griffin said the Brunswick case was "insignificant in and of itself but it sheds some light" on Haynsworth's sense of propriety and his interpretation of judicial ethics.

Bayh also asked whether Haynsworth had owned stock in the C & O Railroad and had sat on cases in which the railroad was involved. Haynsworth testified he had never owned any C & O stock but his wife had bought 10 shares for $641.

The judge said he had sat on a case in which the C & O had been sued by a man who had slipped on a grease spot and he had ruled against the railroad.

tions with the Russians. "Progress" and "movement" are not words Rogers would now use to describe the state of the Nixon administration's efforts to make headway with the Soviets on the Middle East and some other outstanding issues.

But the secretary expects Moscow's answer on starting missile curb talks will be "yes," he thinks the Soviets are interested in moving the Middle East discussions ahead, and he found Gromyko's discourse free of diatribe even amid disagreement.

This picture of Rogers' three-hour dinner meeting with Gromyko Monday night was given by U.S. officials who spoke to newsmen under rules barring direct quotation.

The officials added this caution: Even if negotiations with the Soviets appear possible on some matters, it remains to be seen whether they will be successful.

If Gromyko's return dinner for Rogers Friday follows Monday night's pattern, it is possible that the Soviet leader will be invited to see President Nixon before Gromyko's return to Moscow, expected about Oct. 1.

Color Run Friday
Glen Campbell
the Real McCoy

On Friday The Star will present the 20th of its experimental Color Shows—a four-color presentation featuring Red Kennedy's rose arbor at 501 S. Spruce St., with three Hope girls posed under it.

Shot three months ago this was to have been titled "Welcome to Summer," but time having flown we'll call it "Farewell to Summer!"

That's how it goes when you are working in the unpredictable field of process color. Mere color printing is a cinch. Every one with a modern rotary press prints maps and advertising in one or more colors. But they use individual color inks—no mixing of inks.

In "process color," however, you start with the three basic-color inks—Cyan (blue), Magenta (red), and Yellow—and mix them in the printing operation to bring out every hue in the spectrum. Thus you are able to print original color photographs. Some papers use only the three basic colors, but The Star, always doing things the hard way, insists on genuine four-color printing—adding black to bring out non-color features in a picture.

Except for processing of the hand-camera film, which is sent off to a big-volume laboratory in Dallas, the entire four-color operation is done in The Star's own plant. Our major accomplishment is the making of our own color separations from the original picture transparency, employing an 8x10 Berkey color separator.

The separator works perfectly, but preparing the materials for it has given us much trouble and caused endless delays. We won't be in commercial production of process color until the day we shoot a picture in Ektachrome (commercial color film) we can also say specifically what day we will publish it. That time may be close at hand. Friday's Color Show was gotten off with just one run on the Berkey separator—and we think we have solved the problems of material preparation which caused such a long delay in getting to the machine.

In process color printing the major preliminary step is the making of the Tri-Mask—a black-and-white copy which establishes color balance in the transparency. Copy and transparency are sealed together and placed in the head of the enlarger—and if the Tri-Mask is really O. K. you come off with a good press run.

But we had trouble regulating the Tri-Mask by exposure only, using a fixed development time. Recently Eastman Kodak has corrected its instructions, now regulating development as well as exposure. It solved our problem—after a three-month delay in the rose arbor production which you will see in Friday's Star.

If we have really cleared the last hurdle our next effort will be a race against the clock—to see whether we can shoot a color photo and get it into print in a few days, instead of months.

Hollywood's image is the unreal world of dreams—but to Pod Rogers and Carter Russell it's an everyday world with some real people in it. I imagine most of Arkansas saw Glen Campbell's Good Time Hour on the Columbia Broadcasting System at 6:30 Wednesday night which gave a generous spot to Rogers & Russell and a 135-pound watermelon from Hope.

The Hope men reported most hospitable treatment at the CBS studios while the show was being taped two weeks ago—and they couldn't speak too highly of Glen Campbell and Tommy Smothers and his brother Dick, Campbell's guest stars—all being real folks.

Campbell's performance speaks for itself. On the air he thanked the Smothers for having gotten him started in television. And to his native state he gave for our Hope watermelon feature a time slot longer than that usually given a top-ranking guest star.

Hope Watermelon Wins National Audience on Glen Campbell's CBS Television Show

—Star photos, local screening Channel 12, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday

Here is a sequence of pictures of the Hope 135-pound watermelon feature on the Glen Campbell Good Time Hour at 6:30 Wednesday night. The Star made 16 shots of the CBS production as it came to a Hope receiving set over Channel 12, Shreveport.

Picture above shows the 135-pound melon, directly behind it being C.M. (Pod) Rogers, Jr., circulation manager of The Star, with Carter Russell, proprietor of Russell's Curb Market, at the right, Rogers and Russell drove a truckload of melons to California two weeks ago as part of Arkansas' official contribution to San Diego's 200th birthday celebration, and then went to Hollywood at the invitation of Glen Campbell, native of Delight, Ark.

manager of The Star, with Carter Russell, proprietor of Russell's Curb Market, at the right, Rogers and Russell drove a truckload of melons to California two weeks ago as part of Arkansas' official contribution to San Diego's 200th birthday celebration, and then went to Hollywood at the invitation of Glen Campbell, native of Delight, Ark.

Glen Campbell looks on as Tommy Smothers, of the Smothers Brothers, and Pod Rogers carry the big melon on stage.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said if the melon feature had been charged its running time would have cost $76,000. Glen Campbell got this for Arkansas free.

As with all comedy routines there has to be an "accident." This was the closing sequence—when suddenly the melon got heavy and Smothers and Rogers dropped it.

Western Part of Show to Start Tonight

A rodeo parade at 4 p.m. Thursday marks the opening of the second half of the Third District Livestock show and the first performance of the rodeo will be held in the Coliseum at 8 p.m.

Liberalized Food Stamp Plan Passed

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a sweeping liberalization of the food stamp program that could end up fattening the liberal leadership position of George S. McGovern as much as the stomachs of the nation's poor.

In a major personal triumph for McGovern, the Senate voted 54-40 Wednesday to chuck the recommendations of its own Agriculture Committee and adopt proposals by the South Dakota Democrat aimed at making food stamps available to every poor person in the nation.

Then, ignoring conservative cries that it was creating a "monster" and signing the "death sentence" of food stamps, the Senate sent the proposals on to the House by a vote of 78-14.

What happens now is anybody's guess.

The McGovern proposals go first to the House Agriculture Committee where Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., harbors deep-seated hostility to such programs.

Essentially the McGovern amendment to the Food Stamp Act would authorize $1.25 billion this year, $2 billion next year and $2.5 billion by fiscal 1972.

It would make free stamps

Temperatures to Stay Cool

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cooler temperatures are expected for Arkansas Friday as a weak cold front approaches Arkansas from the northwest, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

No rain is in the forecast. Highs over the state Wednesday ranged from the mid to high 70s in the north and northwest to the low 80s in the south and southwest.

War Deaths Show Very Slight Drop

SAIGON (AP) — The total number of U.S. battle deaths in Vietnam dropped slightly last week, while the total for South Vietnamese government forces dropped sharply. The enemy total increased more than 200 over the week before, the allied command announced today.

The U.S. Command said 135 Americans were killed in action and 1,114 were wounded, compared with 143 killed and 1,549 wounded the previous week.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said there were 297 government battle deaths last week compared with 529 the previous week, while the wounded total was 883 as compared with 976 a week earlier.

A total of 2,627 enemy were reported killed; last Thursday the total reported for the week before was 2,361 but the allied commands increased this today to 2,403 on the basis of subsequent reports, a weekly practice.

Many of the enemy dead apparently were due to air strikes and artillery since spokesmen said activity "continued to decrease last week, especially at week's end, compared to that of the previous week."

The weekly report raised to 39,728 the number of Americans killed in combat in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, according to the U.S. Command. The total number of wounded is now 252,059, while a total of 554,188 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been reported killed in that period.

Pioneer Washington will hold its 6th annual Antique, Arts and Crafts show on October 3-4-5. All the old Washington homes will be open to the public at this time as well as buildings with displays.

Dealers from Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas will be present and lunch will be available each day.

Mrs. Georgia Haynes, manager of the Foundation, announced that a bed, dresser and wash stand made and exhibited by the Chinese government at the 1904 World's Fair at St. Louis had been donated to the Foundation and will be exhibited during this year's show. Ashdown Mill Gets a U.S. Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said today the General Services Administration has awarded a $129,000 contract to the Nekosia Edwards Paper Co. in Ashdown, Ark., to produce 175,000 reams of mimeograph paper.

Man Held in Slaying of Four Women

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A man who lives only about a block from the homes of two of four women killed in a savings and loan office holdup Wednesday was charged today with receiving stolen goods in the investigation of the mass killing.

He was identified as Raymond Kassow, 22.

Police did not disclose what the stolen goods were but they searched his house Wednesday evening. Kassow had been taken into custody earlier Wednesday.

Police Chief Howard Makin of suburban Delhi, where the shootings occurred, said two other men are being sought for questioning. He listed them as Watson Johnson, 23, and John Leigh, 21.

Both live in Cincinnati's Over the Rhine district, an area of small businesses, honky-tonk taverns and upper story apartments just north of the downtown district.

Jury Being Picked for Riot Trial

By MARGARET SCHER
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Jury selection continues today in the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to foment violence during the 1968 Democratic National Convention but attention continues to be focused on Chicago's streets where 19 demonstrators were arrested and two injured Wednesday during meetings with police.

Also injured in a series of meetings near the U.S. Courthouse Wednesday, first day of the trial, were nine policemen and two city prosecutors.

Mayor Richard J. Daley accused supporters of the defendants of trying to provoke a showdown with the authorities. "A policeman is supposed to be cool, but how cool can you get?" the mayor asked at a news conference. "There is no doubt there is a direct attempt at confrontation."

On today's court agenda was continued questioning before Judge Julius J. Hoffman of prospective jurors to try the case in U.S. District Court.

Security forces that included deputy federal marshals brought in from other cities guarded the courthouse.

Fighting flared Wednesday when about 700 protesters returning from a rally in Grant Park—scene of the convention-week violence—threw rocks and bottles while police swung clubs.

Later, the protesters lined up at the one exit left open in the federal building to form a gauntlet along which police, secretaries, lawyers and officials were forced to walk as they left for the day.

Earlier, Judge Hoffman had ordered four absent defense attorneys to show up in court or face arrest. They were Gerald B. Lefcourt of New York, Michael J. Kennedy of San Francisco, Dennis J. Roberts of New York and Michael E. Tigar of Los Angeles.

Defense attorneys moved to have the trial shifted from the courtroom to a site that could accommodate more observers in order, they said, to insure "a constitutional, public trial."

Hoffman denied the motion, commenting: "I'm obligated to sit here in the U.S. courtroom, not in an international amphitheater."

Defendants, charged with conspiracy to violate anti-riot provisions of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, are Abbie Hoffman, 32, New York, leader of the Youth International party—Yippies; David Dellinger, 53, New York, editor of Liberation magazine; Renelle Davis, 29, Chicago, an organizer of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam; John R. Froines, 30, a chemistry professor at the University of Oregon; Thomas E. Hayden, 30, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society; Jerry Rubin, 31, New York, organizer of the 1967 antiwar demonstrations in Berkeley, Calif.; Lee Weiner, 29, Northwestern University research assistant in sociology and Bobby G. Seale, 32, Oakland, Calif., national chairman of the organization.

"Rail-Splitter"
Origin of Lincoln's sobriquet of "Rail-Splitter" is traceable to the Republican state convention in Illinois in 1859, when rails said to have been split by Thomas Hanks and Abraham Lincoln were presented to the convention. The nickname immediately became popular.

South had a mighty good hand for his pre-emptive opening of four spades but his partner had passed originally and he decided to abandon any possible slam contract.

West chose to double. No guarantee went with that double but West hated to be shut out with 18 points. Things started out well for the defense. Clubs went around three times and all West needed was one more trick. He led his king of hearts. South was in dummy with the ace and his first impulse was to concede down one. That seemed kind of silly. He would save a little time but sometimes the defense in play is going to slip. South saw that if West held both the queen and jack of diamonds, as well as the queen of hearts, West was going to have quite a discarding problem.

South rattled off his six trumps as fast as possible and West had to make four discards. The first three were easy enough. He got rid of his last two clubs and the 10 of hearts. His fourth discard was just about as easy. He thought for just a fraction of a second and then let the queen of hearts go.

This didn't represent any great genius on his part. East and West had a good partnership and East had discarded in such a manner as to tell West that South had started with a singleton heart.

He simply discarded nothing but hearts, and he discarded them up in order. He had started by playing the ace on the first lead. When he followed by playing the five six and seven, West knew that East still held the nine. If East had started with just four hearts, he would have high-owed somewhere along the way to show an even number.
